JANET'S CHOICE.

WORDS AND MUSIC

BY CLARIBEL.

VOICE.

PIANO.

They

say I may marry the Laird if I will, The Laird of high de - gree, And jewels so fair I may twine in my hair, And a Lady I'd surely be; But Oh! where would my heart be? In spite of my gems so gay, My heart it would break for somebody's sake So I think I had better say "Nay." And I will marry my own love, my own love, my own love, And

I will marry my own love, For true of heart am I.

So the Laird may marry the La - - - dy The La - dy of high de - gree, And jewels so fair she may twine in her hair; They are better for her than me. And gai - ly I'll dance at the bridal, I'll merri - ly dance on the lea, With

Susan and Alice and Em_ma.: But Donald shall dance with me! ——— And I will marry my own love, my own love, my own love, And I will marry my own love, For true of heart am

I. So the

Laird he married the La - dy, the La dy of high de - gree, And the lowland lassie he lov'd so well, A - bode in her own country. "For oh! where would my heart be," Was ever her con - stant cry, If ev - er I'd dared to marry the Laird, Why Donald would surely die. So I will mar-ry my own love, my own love, my own love, For I will mar-ry my own love For true of heart am I.

SONGS AND BALLADS BY "CLARIBEL."

THE TWO NEW SONGS.

I CANNOT SING THE OLD SONGS 4 0
 Sung by Madame SAINTON-DOLBY.
 I cannot sing the old songs, for visions come again
 Of golden dreams departed, and years of weary pain;
 Perhaps, when earthly fetters shall have set my spirit free,
 My voice may know the old songs for all eternity.

MARION'S SONG. Third Edition 8 0
 Ours in the cool of early morn
 The lark was singing aloud—
 Like a king in state he was high up borne,
 His throne was a crimson cloud—
 While thro' the air his song was ringing
 Came the sweet sound of Marion's singing;
 The echoes listened and caught the strain,
 I heard them singing the song again.
