Dreaming that it's Autumn,
Because the rains have come,
Because the nests are empty,
And the song-birds dumb.
Because the stream quits laughing,
Upon its silver way:
Because the sun is resting,
Because the skies are gray.

Dreaming that it's Autumn,
Because the winds are cold,
Because the flow'rs are sleeping,
'Neath the earth's damp mold.
Because the leaves are falling,
And idle's grown the bee:
Finding that it's Summer,
Because you still love me.
