

A Little Thing Like A Kiss.

Words by Harry B. Smith.

Music by Jerome D. Kern.

Allegretto con grazia.

Piano. mp

There are kiss-es that mean lit-tle to the tak-er or the giv-er, There are You've been wit-ness to the meet-ing of two ver-y charm-ing lad-ies, Who rush p dolce.

oth-ers that mean Oh so much, Of those we must be-ware, For the mad-ly at each oth-er like two bees a-bout to sting, In re-kiss that from a cert-ain part-y fair-ly makes you shiv-er, From an al-i-ty they each may wish the oth-er one in Had-es, But they oth - er is a tri - fle light as air, Oft - en kiss em - brace and say "you dear old thing," I my - times when lips are meet - ing one or both is real - ly cheat - ing, It's no self have oft - en seen it and I know how much they mean it, Each is more than pres - sure of the fing - er tips, In some think ing my where did she get that hat? There are cas - es you go through it, Feel - ing there is noth - ing to it, For a gush - ing smiles de - ceiv - ing, There they kiss a - gain on leav - ing, "Come and kiss comes from the heart not from the lips. see me dear, I will dear, good - bye cat!" So Refrain.

kiss, kiss There's noth - ing that's a - miss, In the friend-ly kiss-es of a friend or two, You may get some frig-id glanc-es, But one has to take those chanc-es I don't see a thing to fuss a - bout do you, Do you So kiss kiss It gives an-oth-er bliss you have thou-sands and just one you'll nev-er miss, If it makes some sad heart light-er, If it makes this old world brighter Don't be stin-gy Don't be stin-gy, Don't be cross a-bout a lit-tle thing like a kiss. — kiss. —

D. S.