

A Ballad of Charles the Bold.

The copying of either the separate parts or of this entire composition by any process whatsoever is forbidden, and subject to the penalties provided under Section 4965 of the Copyright Law.

Words by Edw. Mac D.

Edward Mac Dowell, Op. 54, No.1.

Not fast, impressively.

Tenor I. II. ff sternly.
 Duke Charles rode out the cas - tle gates, Through

Bass I. II.

drift-ing morn-ing mists, His ar - mor, frost-ed by the dew, Gleamed sul - len - ly de - fi - ance. pp Sil - ent - ly the duke did ride And

But woe i - dly clanked his ff sword, p Woe to him who caught his eye, For slightly faster.

Death led forth his charg-er. And all day long the bat-tle raged, p And all day long the all day long bat-tle raged The bat-tle raged And spir-its ming-led with the mist, That slightly -

 bat-tle raged

broader -

again accelerate - wreathed the war-ring knights, Car-essed the mail-ed he-roes And numbed, their wounds, their fff freez-ing wounds, pp Numbed the slower. Till dull grey stained with 1st Bass prominent.

 (Ah) numbed the

he-roes' fro-zen wounds Till dull he-roes' fr-zen wounds Till crim-son Seemed flushed with tro-pic sun-shine grey stained with he-roes' fro-zen wounds Till grey — And Death — lull'd

f grey — crim - son seemed flushed with tro-pic sun - shine And Death lull'd grey — And Death —

warm — to rest, — warm to rest, Death lull'd warm — to rest, to rest, — lull'd Death — lull'd

Death —

warm — Death — lull'd warm to rest warm — Death — lull'd — warm to rest — And Death — lull'd warm — lull'd warm to rest — to pp As at first.

warm to rest — But Charles thou mighty duke — Who

pp rest

ff

rod - est forth at morn, Ah Ah Charles, Death brought no rest to thee, To thee who died that day. — For King Lou - is sits a - lone, And counts thine all, his ve - ry own, For now, he lords o'er Bur-gundy And grips thy heart-strings yet. Lou - is of France and Bur - gund - y

King Lou - is sits a - lone, King Lou-is reigns a - (only 2<sup>d</sup> Bass prominent.)

rex — God rest thee Charles. — lone —