THE SPRING IS COME, HUZZA!

The Spring is come! the Spring is come!
 Huzza! Huzza! Huzza!
 Come raise on high your voices
 Till Echo rings afar.

The Spring is come! the Spring is come!
 Ring out the peal of gladness,
 For past is all our sadness,
 The joyful strain prolong.
 Huzza!

Out from her mossy bed
 Behold the violet peeping;
 Balmy odors are shed
 Where late the Earth lay sleeping;
 Softly murmurs the brook,
 Then answers the whispering pine,
 Filled is each woodland nook
 With the stir of the Spring divine.

The Spring is come! the Spring is come!
 Huzza! Huzza! Huzza!

The Spring is come! Huzza!
