GENERAL PREFACE

The Carl Nielsen Edition is an independent project under the auspices of the Music Department of the Royal Library, launched in 1994 on the initiative of the Ministry of Culture and funded by the Ministry and the foundation Carl Nielsen og Anne Marie Carl-Nielsens Legat, with further financial support for the publication of the individual volumes from a number of other private foundations.

The edition is for both practical and scholarly use, and is based on critical editorial principles. It comprises all Carl Nielsen's finished works and completed individual pieces, and seeks as far as possible to reflect the works in the version last sanctioned by the composer. In cases where songs exist in several different arrangements by Carl Nielsen, all the versions are published.

Each work is furnished with an introduction which gives a brief account of the genesis of the work and its place in the composer's oeuvre, and a Critical Commentary including source description, editorial emendations and additions, and important alternative readings. The editorial material is published together with the music.

Works included in volumes with several independent works are also published in separate booklets. Part material is published for all the orchestral and chamber music works, and parts as well as piano score are published for the operas and the major choral works.

The edition is divided into the three main series Stage Music, Instrumental Music and Vocal Music, each further divided into volumes; within each genre the works are ordered chronologically.

GENERELT FORORD

Carl Nielsen Udgaven er et selvstændigt projekt under Det Kongelige Biblioteks Musikafdeling, iværksat i 1994 på Kulturministeriets foranledning og finansieret af Kulturministeriet og Carl Nielsen og Anne Marie Carl-Nielsens Legat, hvortil kommer støtte fra en række private fonde til udgivelse af de enkelte bind.

Udgaven er til såvel praktisk som videnskabelig brug, tilrettelagt efter kritisk-videnskabelige udgivelsesprincipper. Den omfatter samtlige Carl Nielsens afsluttede værker og enkeltsatser og søger i videst mulige omfang at afspejle værkerne i den af komponisten senest sanktionerede version. I tilfælde, hvor sange foreligger i flere forskellige arrangementer fra Carl Nielsens hånd, udgives alle versioner.

Hvert værk er forsynet med en indledning, der kort beskriver værkets tilblivelseshistorie og placerer det i den samlede produktion, samt en kritisk beretning, hvor der redegøres for kildesituationen, redaktionelle ændringer og tilføjelser og vigtige varianter. Den kritiske beretning udgives sammen med nodeteksten.

Værker, der indgår i bind med flere selvstændige værker, udgives også i separate hæfter. Til alle orkester- og kammermusikværker udgives stemmemateriale, og til operaerne og de større korværker udgives såvel stemmer som klaverpartitur.

Udgaven er opdelt i hovedserierne Scenemusik, Instrumentalmusik og Vokalmusik med tilhørende opdeling i enkeltbind; inden for hver genre er værkerne ordnet kronologisk.

Series I, Stage Music

Operas
Music for other stage works
Incidental music and arrangements

Series II, Instrumental Music

Series III, Vocal Music

Works for soloists, choir and orchestra
Cantatas and occasional music
A cappella choral pieces
Songs and recitations with piano, songs without accompaniment
Songs arranged for vocal soloists and orchestra

Carl Nielsen's literary works are available in connection with the Edition.<sup>1</sup>

Editorial principles

The music is reproduced with no typographical indications of editorial additions or emendations. These will be documented in the Critical Commentary. Typography, score disposition, genre names, and instrument names have been normalized in accordance with present-day practice. With a few exceptions, discussed in more detail in the Critical Commentary, the many additions and changes in Carl Nielsen's works that have been made by friends and colleagues have been removed.

Articulation, dynamics, ties and slurs, execution markings and playing instructions have been normalized on the basis of analogies between clearly parallel passages. All such completions are documented in the Critical Commentary. Obvious writing and printing errors have been tacitly corrected.

Carl Nielsen often notated horns and trumpets with key signatures. This practice has been normalized to a notation exclusively using accidentals.

Serie I, Scenemusik

Operaer
Musik til andre sceneværker
Enkelte satser i sceneværker samt arrangementer

Serie II, Instrumentalmusik

Symfonier
Andre orkesterværker
Koncerter
Kammermusik
Værker for orgel
Værker for klaver

Serie III, Vokalmusik

Værker for soli, kor og orkester
Kantater og lejlighedsmusik
Korsatser a cappella
Enstemmige sange og recitation med klaver, enstemmige sange uden akkompagnement
Enstemmige sange i arrangement for orkester

Carl Niensens litterære arbejder foreligger udgivet i tilknytning til Udgaven.<sup>1</sup>

Redaktionelle principper

Nodeteksten gengives uden typografisk markering af redaktionelle tilføjelser eller ændringer. Disse vil være dokumenteret i den kritiske beretning. Typografi, partituropstilling, instrument- og genrebetegnelse er normaliseret efter nutidig praksis. Med enkelte undtagelser, som der er gjort nærmere rede for i den kritiske beretning, er de mange tilføjelser og ændringer i Carl Niensens værker, der er foretaget af venner og kolleger, fjernet.

Nodeteksten er normaliseret med hensyn til artikulation, dynamik, buer, foredragsbetegnelse og spilletekniske anvisninger således, at der er analogi mellem entydige parallelsteder. Alle sådanne kompletteringer dokumenteres i den kritiske beretning. Oplagte skrive- og trykfejl er stiltiende rettet.

Carl Nielsen noterede ofte horn og trompeter med faste fortegn. Denne praksis er normaliseret til notation udelukkende med løse fortegn.

“Muta in” in connection with the retuning of timpani and changes between two instruments (for example clarinet in A and B<sup>b</sup>) have been tacitly normalized. This also applies to the combination of ties and slurs.

In Carl Nielsen’s manuscripts the dynamic markings are sometimes rather carelessly placed, and this is also reflected in the early printed editions. This has been tacitly adjusted.

Clefs are normally given as in the main source.

The Carl Nielsen Edition*

Revised in 2001

“Muta in” i forbindelse med omstemning af pauker og skift mellem to instrumenter (f.eks. klarinet i A og B<sup>b</sup>) er stiltiende normaliseret. Det samme gælder kombinationen af buer og bindebuer.

I Carl Niensens manuskripter er de dynamiske angivelser undertiden placeret noget skødesløst, hvilket afspejler sig i de tidlige trykte udgaver. Dette er stiltiende justeret.

Nøgler gengives normalt som i hovedkilden.

P R E F A C E

Carl Nielsen composed his Sixth Symphony in the years 1924-1925, when he was about sixty years old. He had a weak heart, and in 1922, probably as a result of great pressure of work, he had suffered several heart attacks, leading to a diagnosis of angina pectoris. In the subsequent period he had to take medical advice and cut down on work activity, and sometimes rest completely. He was also forbidden to smoke and had to spend time at health resorts.<sup>1</sup> Besides his work on the school songbook Danmark, which he finished in 1924, he mainly composed vocal music from mid-1922 until mid-1924, including the lesser-known 'romance' Balladen om Bjørnen (The Ballad of the Bear) op. 47, and Prelude and Theme with Variations for Violin Solo op. 48.<sup>2</sup> But his summer holiday in 1924, which he spent at his house in Skagen, where despite his illness he learned to drive a car,<sup>3</sup> strengthened and encouraged him, and in August he went to work on his first major work after the Fifth Symphony and the Wind Quintet – the Sixth Symphony.<sup>4</sup>

On 12th August 1924, in a letter to his daughter Anne Marie Telmányi, he wrote of his vision of the symphony, which at that time he envisaged as being “quite idyllic in character; that is, quite beyond all time-bound taste and fashion, but simply fine and inward musical abandonment to the tones in the same way as the old a cappella musicians, yet still with the resources of our time – yet what do I know, when I still only feel it loosely and as an obscure urge to do something along those lines?”<sup>5</sup>

Carl Nielsen komponerede sin 6. symfoni i årene 1924-1925, da han var omkring 60 år gammel. Han havde svagt hjerte, og i løbet af 1922 havde han, formentlig fremkaldt af stort arbejdspress, haft flere hjerteanfald, der førte til diagnostiseringen af angina pectoris. I den følgende tid måtte han efter lægeligt råd dæmpe sin arbejdsaktivitet og til tider forholde sig fuldstændigt i ro, ligesom han blev underlagt rygeforbud og måtte tage på flere kurophold.<sup>1</sup> Ved siden af arbejdet med skolesangbogen Danmark, der afsluttedes i 1924, komponerede han fra midten af 1922 til midten af 1924 hovedsagelig vokalmusik, heriblandt den mindre kendte romance Balladen om Bjørnen op. 47, samt Præludium og Thema med Variationer for Violin Solo op. 48.<sup>2</sup> Men sommerferien 1924, som han tilbragte i sit hus på Skagen, og hvor han sin sygdom til trods lærte at køre bil,<sup>3</sup> styrkede og opmuntrede ham, og i august gik han i gang med arbejdet på sit første store værk efter 5. symfoni og blæserkvintetten, den 6. symfoni.<sup>4</sup>

Den 12. august 1924 har Carl Nielsen i et brev til datteren Anne Marie Telmányi redegjort for sin vision af symfonien, som han på daværende tidspunkt forestillede sig som værende:

“af helt idyllisk Karakter. Altsaa, helt udenfor al tidsbetinget Smag og Mode, men bare fin og inderlig musikalsk Hengivelse i Tonerne paa samme Maade som de gamle a capella Musikere, dog alligevel med vor Tids Midler, ja, hvad ved jeg, naar jeg endnu kun føler det løse og den dunkle Lyst til noget i den Retning.”<sup>5</sup>

The letter was written immediately before the beginning of the composition work, as is evident from a letter to his son-in-law Emil Telmányi written two days later, where he writes: “No news except I have begun to work on a charming, playful symphony.”<sup>6</sup> Another letter to his daughter Anne Marie confirms that Carl Nielsen had started composing, but that – faithful to the way he composed his Fifth Symphony<sup>7</sup> – he did not know how the work would develop:

“I am quite busy composing something. Lord knows how it will turn out! I don’t know myself, but what if it does turn out to be rubbish, [it] doesn’t really matter, little Nielsen can’t damn well go on the same way all the time, with temperament and all that. This time [it] will be good and boring and respectable.”<sup>8</sup>

The composition work was continued at Damgaard near Fredericia and was concluded in Copenhagen. Carl Nielsen was able to end-date the first movement 20th November 1924.<sup>9</sup> In a letter of 22nd October written at Damgaard to his friend and patron Carl Johan Michaelsen the composer still imagines his symphony as light-hearted and uncomplicated, although he dare not say anything definitive about the result:

“I am coming along well with my new symphony; as far as I can see it will in the main be of a different character from my others: more amiable, flowing or what should I say – yet it is not good to say, since I do not know what currents may arise during the voyage.”<sup>10</sup>

A good month later, on 30th November, he was still making good progress,<sup>11</sup> and on 28th January 1925 he could report to his son-in-law Emil Telmányi that the second movement was finished: “It’s a very short piece, now I must get going with the

Brevet er skrevet umiddelbart før påbegyndelsen af kompositionsarbejdet, hvilket fremgår af et brev til svigersønnen Emil Telmányi affattet to dage senere, hvori det hedder: “Intet nyt uden at jeg har begyndt at arbejde paa en elskværdig, legende Symfoni.”<sup>6</sup> Nok et brev til datteren Anne Marie underbygger, at Carl Nielsen var gået i gang med at komponere, men at han stadig – sin kompositions måde fra femte symfoni tro<sup>7</sup> – ikke var klar over, hvordan værket ville udvikle sig:

“jeg er ganske flittig med at komponere noget. Gud ved hvordan det bliver! Jeg ved det ikke selv, men hvad om det ogsaa bliver noget Skidt saa kan [det] jo ogsaa være det samme, lille Nielsen kan jo da for Pokker ikke blive ved paa en og samme Maade, med Temperament og al det der. Denne gang skal [det] være godt kedeligt og pænt.”<sup>8</sup>

Kompositionsarbejdet fortsattes på Damgaard ved Fredericia og afsluttedes i København. Første sats kunne Carl Nielsen slutdatere 20. november 1924.<sup>9</sup> I et brev af 22. oktober skrevet på Damgaard til vennen og velynderen Carl Johan Michaelsen forestiller komponisten sig stadig sin symfoni som lys og ukompliceret, omend han ikke tør udtale sig definitivt om resultatet:

“Jeg er kommen godt igang med min nye Symfoni; saavidt jeg kan se, bliver den i Hovedsagen af en anden Karakter end mine øvrige: mere elskværdig, glidende eller hvad skal jeg sige, dog er det ikke godt at sige, da jeg ikke ved noget om hvad Strømme der kan komme under Sejladsen.”<sup>10</sup>

Godt en måned senere, den 30. november, er han stadig godt i gang,<sup>11</sup> og den 28. januar 1925 kan han meddele svigersønnen Emil Telmányi, at 2. sats er færdig: “Det er et meget kort

3rd.<sup>12</sup> After among other interruptions a long concert and recreation trip in March, including a stay in the south of France, where Carl Nielsen met Arnold Schoenberg,<sup>13</sup> he wrote on 18th April to Telmányi that the third movement – “which is short (4-5 mins.)” – was finished.<sup>14</sup>

In July Carl Nielsen had come to a halt in the work with the symphony,<sup>15</sup> and as with many of his other works he only finished his Sixth Symphony at the last moment. That he was still composing at the end of October is evident from a card from Carl Nielsen to Telmányi dated 30th October 1925,<sup>16</sup> and he must have worked on the symphony for more than a month after this, for the final movement was not end-dated until “5th December 1925”.<sup>17</sup>

The premiere was at first advertised for 27th November 1925,<sup>18</sup> but had to be postponed. The symphony had its first performance on 11th December 1925 at the concert hall of the Odd Fellow Palæ in Copenhagen in the Royal Danish Orchestra’s gala concert. The concert was the last public celebration of the composer’s sixtieth birthday, and Carl Nielsen himself conducted. On the programme too were his Saga Dream, Pan and Syrinx, the “Oriental March” from Aladdin and his Violin Concerto with Telmányi as soloist.<sup>19</sup> According to tradition the symphony was dedicated to the Royal Danish Orchestra, although it has not been possible to document this, either from the musical sources or the programme for the first performance concert.<sup>20</sup>

Stykke, nu skal jeg ifærd med 3<sup>die</sup>.<sup>12</sup> Efter en afbrydelse, blandt andet i form af en lang koncert- og rekreatjonsrejse i marts, der indbefattede et ophold i Sydfrankrig, hvor Carl Nielsen traf Arnold Schönberg,<sup>13</sup> skriver han 18. april til Telmányi, at 3. sats – “som er kort (4-5 Min)” – er afsluttet.<sup>14</sup>

I juli var Carl Nielsen gået i stå i arbejdet med symfonien,<sup>15</sup> og som med mange andre af sine værker blev han først færdig med 6. symfoni i sidste øjeblik. At han endnu i slutningen af oktober var i gang med arbejdet, fremgår af et kort fra Carl Nielsen til Emil Telmányi dateret 30. oktober 1925,<sup>16</sup> og han må have arbejdet på symfonien mere end en måned efter dette, for sidste sats er først slutdateret “5<sup>te</sup> December 1925”.<sup>17</sup>

Uropførelsen var i første omgang annonceret til at finde sted 27. november 1925,<sup>18</sup> men måtte udskydes. Symfonien fik sin førsteopførelse 11. december 1925 i Odd Fellow Palæet i København ved Det Kongelige Kapels festkoncert. Koncerten var den sidste offentlige markering af komponistens 60-årsdag, og Carl Nielsen dirigerede selv orkestret. På programmet stod i øvrigt Saga-Drøm, Pan og Syrinx, “Orientalisk Marsch” fra Aladdin samt Carl Niensens violinkoncert med Telmányi som solist.<sup>19</sup> Symfonien er i følge overleveringen tilegnet Det Kongelige Kapel, hvad der imidlertid ikke har kunnet dokumenteres – hverken ud fra de musikalske kilder eller programmet fra uropførelseskoncerten.<sup>20</sup>

Prior to the first performance Carl Nielsen conducted the first movement of the symphony on 1st November 1925 in a concert at Musikaliska Akademien in Stockholm.<sup>21</sup> But apart from these no other performances conducted by the composer are known. As for performances conducted by others in his lifetime we know only of the first performance in Gothenburg on 3rd February 1926, where Emil Telmányi was in charge,<sup>22</sup> and the first performance at Tivoli in Copenhagen on 18th June 1927,<sup>23</sup> where the conductor was Frederik Schnedler-Petersen.<sup>24</sup> The symphony was performed for the first time by the Danish Broadcasting Corporation under Fritz Busch on 18th February 1937.<sup>25</sup>

As regards the reception of Carl Nielsen's last symphony, the biographer Torben Meyer's assessment – that the symphony “stands as the weakest among Carl Nielsen's symphonic works”<sup>26</sup> – was the dominant view for a long time. (Later the symphony has been regarded as much more interesting and challenging). Despite a mainly positive reception in the press, most reviews of the first performance expressed reservations.

Most positive were William Behrend<sup>27</sup> in Berlingske Tidende and Hugo Seligmann<sup>28</sup> in Politiken. Behrend was unreservedly enthusiastic, and like several of his colleagues he considered the instrumentation innovative.<sup>29</sup> Seligmann too dwelled on the chamber-music-like and experimental use of the orchestra, at the same time describing the symphony as an “odd work” that was not “all that easy to get to grips with”. He called the composer “the stark modernist”, but otherwise praised him for his “pure and beautiful sense of music” and his “genuine Danish humour”.<sup>30</sup>

Most negative was Gunnar Hauch,<sup>31</sup> who in his comprehensive critique in Nationaltidende called the symphony “the most complicated, singular or rather pig-headed work” by Carl Nielsen, who he thought had become “rampantly egocen-

Forud for uropførelsen dirigerede Carl Nielsen 1. sats af symfonien den 1. november 1925 ved en koncert i Musikaliska Akademien i Stockholm.<sup>21</sup> Herudover kendes ingen opførelser under komponistens ledelse. Af opførelser i øvrigt i hans levetid kendes den første opførelse af værket i Göteborg 3. februar 1926, der blev forestået af Emil Telmányi,<sup>22</sup> og den første opførelse i Tivoli i København 18. juni 1927,<sup>23</sup> hvor dirigenten var Frederik Schnedler-Petersen.<sup>24</sup> Symfonien opførtes første gang i Statsradiofonien under Fritz Busch den 18. februar 1937.<sup>25</sup>

Hvad angår receptionen af Carl Niensens sidste symfoni i samtiden og den nære eftertid, var Torben Meyers vurdering – at symfonien “staar som det svageste blandt Carl Niensens symfoniske Værker”<sup>26</sup> – længe den dominerende. (Senere er symfonien blevet opfattet som langt mere interessant og udfordrende). Trods en overvejende imødekomende modtagelse i pressen indeholder de fleste anmeldelser af uropførelsen forbehold.

Mest positive var William Behrend<sup>27</sup> i Berlingske Tidende og Hugo Seligmann<sup>28</sup> i Politiken. Behrend var udelt begejstret, og instrumentationen bedømte han i lighed med flere kolleger til at være nyskabende.<sup>29</sup> Også Seligmann hæftede sig ved den kammermusikalske og eksperimenterende orkesterbrug, idet han samtidig betegnede symfonien som et “mærkeligt Værk”, der ikke var “saadan at løbe til”. Komponisten kaldte han for “den krasse Modernist”, men roste ham i øvrigt for hans “rene og skønne Musikfølelse” og hans “ægte danske Lune”.<sup>30</sup>

Mest negativ var Gunnar Hauch,<sup>31</sup> der i sin omfattende kritik i Nationaltidende betegnede symfonien som “det mest komplicerede, egenartede eller rettere egenraadige tric and has lost much of the 'expansive' character that used to captivate his surroundings". His conclusion was that "here one looks – with a few exceptions – in vain for his original, spontaneous inspiration. In addition Carl Nielsen's orchestra – which has after all rarely been seductively euphonious – sounds this time with greater harshness than before."<sup>32</sup>

The unsigned review in Kristeligt Dagblad states that the symphony does not like its predecessors make up an organic unity, "for the inserted 'Humoresque' was a piece all its own",<sup>33</sup> and Børsen considered the humoresque "more odd than beautiful".<sup>34</sup> The reviewer on Social Demokraten was disappointed over both this and the third movement and stuck to praising the surrounding movements; the first movement for its affinities with the music "the inimitable old masters" composed, the last movement without specifying its qualities.<sup>35</sup> More or less all the reviewers were however agreed that Carl Nielsen had retained a youthful freshness at the age of sixty.

Like several of the other reviewers, Seligmann compared the humoresque to music by Igor Stravinsky, who had at that time just performed some of his own works in Copenhagen.<sup>36</sup> In the newspaper København the comparison was negatively formulated: "We were presented with all the Asiatic wag's hocus-pocus, but not as amusingly as when the Stravinskian witches' sabbaths do the trick."<sup>37</sup> William Behrend, on the other hand, thought that "Carl Nielsen is too personal and distinctive to 'imitate' a Stravinsky".<sup>38</sup>

Although this is not the place for a discussion of the modernist features of the Sixth Symphony, it must be singled out as remarkable that Carl Nielsen himself (compare the above quotations) on the one hand described the symphony as standing "beyond all time-bound taste and fashion" and spoke of writing a simple, old-fashioned symphony, while on the other hand he had in reality worked in several respects towards a contemporary style of writing with chamber-music-inspired use of the orchestra, atonal tendencies and polyrhythms. In the interview in Politiken on the day of the premiere, Carl Nielsen indeed said very tellingly: "Times change, after all. Where is the new music taking us? What will be left? We don't know! You will find this in my little Humoresque, which is the second movement in the symphony, and in the last movement".<sup>39</sup>

Værk" af Carl Nielsen, som han mente, var blevet "overhaandtagende egocentrisk og har mistet meget af det 'ekspansive', som ellers betog ogsaa Omgivelserne". Hans konklusion var, at "man her – med enkelte Undtagelser – forgæves søger den oprindelige, spontane Inspiration. Dertil kommer, at Carl Niensens Orkester – der jo kun sjældent var forførerisk i Velklang – denne Gang klinger med en større Haardhed end ellers."<sup>32</sup>

Den usignedede anmeldelse i Kristeligt Dagblad meddeler, at symfonien ikke som sine forgængere udgør et organisk hele, "thi den indføjede 'Humoreske' var et Stykke ganske for sig",<sup>33</sup> og Børsen fandt humoresken "mere aparte end skøn".<sup>34</sup> Social Demokratens anmelder var skuffet over både denne og tredje sats og holdt sig til at rose ydersatserne; førstesatsen for dens slægtskab med den musik, "de uforlignelige gamle" komponerede, sidste sats uden at specificere dens kvaliteter.<sup>35</sup> Stort set alle anmeldere var imidlertid enige om, at Carl Nielsen som tresårig havde bevaret en ungdommelig friskhed.

I lighed med en hel del af sine kolleger sammenlignede ogsaa Seligmann humoresken med musik af Stravinsky, som kort forinden havde opført egne værker i København.<sup>36</sup> I avisen København var sammenligningen negativt formuleret: "Alle den asiatiske Pudsensmagers Hokus-pokus fik vi præsenteret, blot knap så morsomt, som naar de stravinsky'ske Heksesabater gaar an."<sup>37</sup> William Behrend, derimod, mente, at "Carl Nielsen er for personlig og egenartet til at 'efterligne' en Stravinsky".<sup>38</sup>

Skønt dette ikke er stedet for en diskussion af 6. symfonis modernitetstræk, bør det fremhæves som bemærkelsesværdigt, at komponisten selv, jævnfør ovenstående citater, har beskrevet symfonien som stående "udenfor al tidsbetinget Smag og Mode" og talt om at skrive en enkel, gammeldags symfoni, mens han i realiteten har arbejdet sig hen imod en på forskellig vis tidssvarende sats med både kammermusikalsk inspireret orkesterbrug, atonale tendenser og polymetrik. I interviewet i Politiken fra uropførelsesdagen udtaler Carl Nielsen meget sigende: "Tiderne skifter jo. Hvor fører den nye Musik os hen? Hvad bliver tilbage? Vi véd det ikke! Dette vil De finde i min lille Humoreske, som er anden Sats i Symfonien, og i sidste Sats".<sup>39</sup>

Besides the discussion of the relationship of the symphony with contemporary modernist tendencies, the programme music issue also arises in connection with the Sixth Symphony. Several of Carl Nielsen's statements stress that the symphony has programmatic features, while he has at the same time claimed the opposite. In an interview in Politiken of 3rd April 1925 the composer confirms that the symphony is an example of absolute music. Of the as yet uncomposed final movement he says that it "will be a variation work, a cosmic chaos whose atoms, through the theme of darkness becoming light, clarify and unite into a globe."<sup>40</sup> In Berlingske Tidende on 3rd June 1925 he speaks of "a work of gentle, almost pastoral character with a single, very passionate middle movement".<sup>41</sup> On 9th December, that is two days before the premiere, the humoresque is on the other hand expounded as detailed programme music. Carl Nielsen says for example in Nationaltidende:

"The humoresque begins with the three small percussion instruments – glockenspiel, drum and triangle – agreeing to wake up the other, larger instruments, which lie sleeping. These three small creatures don't have much brain, they're very childish, sweet, innocent small creatures, and now they begin with their bim-a-lim-a-bim and their gentle bom-bom-bom ... they get more and more enthusiastic and in the end manage to alarm the others into playing ... the clarinets, the piccolo and the bassoons. But the little innocent instruments don't care at all for the modern music that is now sounding – they hammer away by themselves: stop, stop, they say ... and then soon it's all up with the modern music. But then a clarinet starts to play, it's a small childlike melody, and the small instruments keep quiet and listen. The trombone, this big instrument, yawns and says Bah, bah, baby food! The other instruments come in again, there's a struggle over the music, it sounds a bit out of tune and confused – and in the end it all settles into nothing worth talking about. That's the humoresque of the symphony."<sup>42</sup>

Immediately before this in the same interview he stresses again that the symphony only depicts "purely musical problems".<sup>43</sup> Possible in Carl Nielsen's own understanding there was no

Foruden diskussionen af symfoniens forhold til samtidige modernitetstendenser trænger også programmusikdiskussionen sig på i forbindelse med 6. symfoni. Flere af Carl Niensens udtalelser betoner, at symfonien har programmatisk træk, samtidig med at han har hævdet det modsatte. I et interview i Politiken af 3. april 1925 bekræfter komponisten, at symfonien er et eksempel på absolut musik. Om den endnu ukomponerede finale siger han, at den "bliver et Variationsværk, et kosmisk Kaos, hvis Atomer over Temaet fra det dunkle til det lyse klarer op og samles til en Klode."<sup>40</sup> I Berlingske Tidende 3. juni 1925 taler han om "et Værk af blid, næsten pastoral Karakter med en enkelt meget lidenskabelig Midtersats".<sup>41</sup> Den 9. december 1925, altså to dage før uropførelsen, udlægges andensatsen derimod som detaljeret programmusik. Carl Nielsen siger i Nationaltidende:

"Humoresken begynder med, at de tre smaa Slaginstrumenter – Klokkespillet, Trommen og Trianglen – bliver enige om at vække de andre, større Instrumenter, som ligger og sover. Disse tre smaa Væsener har ikke megen Hjerne, de er nogle meget barnlige, søde, uskyldige Smaa, og de begynder nu med deres Bimme-limme-bim og deres sagte Bom-bom-bom ... de bliver ivrigere og ivrigere og faar tilsidst larmet de andre op til at spille ... Klarinetterne, Piccolofløjten og Fagotterne. Men de smaa uskyldige Instrumenter synes aldeles ikke om den moderne Musik, der nu lyder – de hamrer for sig selv: Hold op, hold op, siger de ... og saa er det snart forbi med den moderne Musik. Men da begynder en Klarinet at spille, det er en lille barnlig Melodi, og de smaa Instrumenter tier og lytter. Basunen, dette store Instrument, gaber og siger: Baah, Barnemad! De andre Instrumenter falder atter ind, der bliver Strid om Musiken, det lyder lidt falsk og forvirret – og tilsidst falder det hele hen til ingen Verdens Ting. Dette er Symfoniens Humoreske."<sup>42</sup>

Umiddelbart forinden i samme interview betoner han igen, at symfonien kun skildrer "rent musikalske Problemer".<sup>43</sup> Muligvis var der i Carl Niensens egen forståelse ikke tale om nogen contradiction in this, but read with the usual understanding of music that is 'purely musical' as the opposite of programmatic the statements seem contradictory.

The story of the quarrel of the instruments in the humoresque is confirmed by Ludvig Dolleris, to whom Carl Nielsen is said to have commented on the second movement as follows:

"It's a little night-time tale, told by purely musical means. The instruments lie sound asleep in their sweetest dreams – now and then making small nocturnal sounds. Then gradually they wake up to a terrible row. But they seem to fall calm again, then the clarinet, supported by the bassoon, goes to work on a happy little tune. But that is too much for the trombone: it breaks out in 'a contemptuous yawn', a big glissando meant to say "Oh, give all that baby food a rest." They all get terribly excited. But sleepiness prevails all the same. And soon they are again sleeping peacefully side by side."<sup>44</sup>

Another thing bearing on the discussion of the programmatic features of the symphony is the fact that the work is furnished with a title, Sinfonia semplice. True, the title is not to be found in the musical source material and does not appear in the printed score from 1938. The first time it appears in any musical material is in the printed score with parts from 1958. But it is found in the concert programme from the first performance,<sup>45</sup> and Carl Nielsen already referred to it in the above-quoted interview in Nationaltidende, where he said of the symphony: "I've given it the name 'Sinfonia semplice' because it's mainly in a lighter vein than my other symphonies – there are merry things in it."<sup>46</sup> In the Politiken interview from the day of the first performance, also quoted above, he says, explaining why he chose this title:

"It's [...] because in this work I strove for the greatest possible simplicity. This time I've composed on the basis of the character of the instruments, have tried to depict them as independent individualities. I regard the various instruments as persons who lie sleeping, and whom I have to awaken to life."<sup>47</sup>

The title of the third movement, Proposta seria, refers in accordance with the structure of the movement to the Italian Baroque modsigelse, men læst med den gængse forståelse af 'rent musikalsk' som modsætningen til programmusikalsk virker udtalelserne modstridende.

Historien om instrumenternes strid i humoresken bekræftes af Ludvig Dolleris, til hvem Carl Nielsen skal have udtalt følgende om 2. sats:

"Det er et lille natligt Eventyr, fortalt med rene Musikvirkemidler. Instrumenterne ligger i deres sødeste Søvn og sover paa deres grønneste Øre – nu og da givende smaa natlige Lyde fra sig. Saa vaagner de efterhaanden op til vildt Skændsmaal. De synes dog atter at falde til Ro, da tager Klarinetten, understøttet af Fagotter, fat paa en lille glad Melodi. Men det bli'r Basunen for meget: den den bryder ud i 'en foragtelig Gaben', et stort glissando, der skal sige saa meget som: "Aarh, saa hold dog op med den Barnemad." Alle geraader udi stor Ophidselse. Men Søvnigheden gør sig trods alt gældende. Og snart sover de atter fredeligt Side om Side."<sup>44</sup>

Med til diskussionen om symfoniens programatiske træk hører det forhold, at værket er forsynet med en titel, Sinfonia semplice. Titlen er vel at mærke ikke at finde i det musikalske kildemateriale og optræder ikke i det trykte partitur fra 1938. Første gang den ses i noget nodemateriale, er i det trykte partitur med stemmer fra 1958. Den findes dog i koncertprogrammet fra uropførelsen,<sup>45</sup> og Carl Nielsen har refereret til den allerede i det ovenfor citerede interview i Nationaltidende, hvor han om symfonien siger: "Jeg har givet den navnet 'Sinfonia semplice', fordi den i Hovedsagen er af lysere Farve end mine andre Symfonier – der er lystige Ting deri."<sup>46</sup> I Politikens interview fra uropførelsesdagen, også citeret ovenfor, siger han forklarende om, hvorfor han har valgt denne titel:

"Det er [...] fordi jeg i dette Arbejde har tilstræbt den størst mulige Enkelhed. Jeg har denne Gang komponeret ud fra Instrumenternes Karakter, har søgt at skildre Instrumenterne som selvstændige Individualiteter. Jeg betragter de enkelte Instrumenter som Personer, der ligger og sover, og som jeg nu skal vække til Live."<sup>47</sup>

Titlen på tredje sats, Proposta seria, benytter den barokke italienske betegnelse for et fugatema, proposta. Hvad sidste sats designation for a fugue subject, proposta. As for the last movement, Carl Nielsen said according to Thorvald Nielsen<sup>48</sup> that the ninth variation with tuba and percussion is death knocking on the door, and that he wanted to defy death with the concluding fanfare.<sup>49</sup>

The manuscript source material for the Sixth Symphony ranges from sketches through a pencil draft and an ink fair copy of the score to manuscript orchestral parts. Of manuscript sources that were made after the death of the composer, there are nine supplementary string parts in unknown hands, some of which are dated 1935, and an undated ink copy of the score fair copy in the same hand as the dated parts, probably from the same time.

While the source material from sketches to fair copy covers all the usual stages, it is notable that Emil Telmányi's hand is to a great extent represented in the material. As we know from Telmányi's autobiography,<sup>50</sup> at the request of Carl Nielsen he composed an extra bar at the end of the first movement, the present b. 254. Telmányi and Carl Nielsen were very close, and other works, such as the flute concerto, also testify to the fact that Carl Nielsen left a substantial part of the responsibility for his compositions to his son-in-law; a responsibility that extended beyond the proof-reading. However, Telmányi not only helped with the drawing-up of the score fair copy, where he was responsible for the whole of the second movement and made additions to the other movements; in the pencil draft too he added considerable parts of the music, including actual notes – in the first movement even to a substantial extent.

A comparison of the sources and a study of the kinds of additions and the writing utensils used can document that Telmányi made changes and additions to the main source (Source A) in several stages. He helped with the completion of the symphony before the first performance, but he also made additions after this – perhaps in consultation with Carl Nielsen, perhaps not. Finally, he made changes in connection with the revision and publication of the first printed score in 1938, that is several years after the death of the composer.

Corrections in the main source marked by Telmányi with “NB” (these are almost exclusively found in the first angår, skal Carl Nielsen ifølge Thorvald Nielsen<sup>48</sup> have udtalt, at niende variation er døden, der banker på porten, og at han ville trodse døden med den afsluttende fanfare.<sup>49</sup>

Det håndskrevne kildemateriale til 6. symfoni rækker fra skitser over blyantskladde og blækrenskrift af partituret til håndskrevne orkesterstemmer. Af håndskrevne kilder, der er blevet til efter komponistens død, findes ni supplerende strygerstemmer i fremmede hænder, hvoraf en del er dateret 1935, samt en udateret blækafskrift af partiturrenskriften i samme hånd som de daterede stemmer, sandsynligvis fra samme tid.

Mens kildematerialet fra skitser til renskrift omfatter alle de sædvanlige stadier, er det bemærkelsesværdigt, at Emil Telmányi's hånd i udstrakt grad er repræsenteret i materialet. Som det er kendt fra Telmányi's selvbiografi,<sup>50</sup> har han på Carl Niensens opfordring indkomponeret en ekstra takt i slutningen af første sats, den nuværende t. 254. Telmányi og Carl Nielsen stod hinanden meget nær, og også andre værker som fx fløjtekoncerten bevidner, at Carl Nielsen overgav en væsentlig del af ansvaret for sine kompositioner til svigersønnen; et ansvar, der rakte ud over det korrekturmæssige. Telmányi har imidlertid ikke alene hjulpet med udfærdigelsen af partiturrenskriften, hvor han har forestået hele andensatsen samt gjort tilføjelser i de øvrige satser; også i blyantskladden har han tilføjet væsentlige dele af nodeteksten inklusive noder, i første sats endda i væsentligt omfang.

Ud fra en sammenligning af kilderne og et studium af arten af tilføjelser og anvendte skriveredskaber kan det godtgøres, at Telmányi har gjort ændringer og tilføjelser i hovedkilden (kilde A) i flere omgange. Han har hjulpet med færdiggørelsen af symfonien forud for uropførelsen, men han har også gjort tilføjelser derefter – måske i samråd med Carl Nielsen, måske ikke. Endelig har han foretaget ændringer og indført korrekturrettelser i forbindelse med revisionen og udgivelsen af det første trykte partitur i 1938, altså flere år efter komponistens død.

Rettelser i hovedkilden, der af Telmányi er markeret med “NB” (sådanne findes næsten udelukkende i første sats), er movement) are regarded as part of the main source with the exception of those that have been erased and not gone over in ink by Carl Nielsen, and those that were very probably made after the death of the composer. This is because there are many examples where such corrections have been made with Carl Nielsen's involvement. Similarly, internal variants that have either been reproduced in the manuscript parts from the first performance or are noted as additions in the parts by Carl Nielsen are counted as part of the main source. Finally, other internal variants in Telmányi's hand which have been gone over or changed by Carl Nielsen are counted as part of the main source.

As thoroughly as has been possible, all Telmányi's many additions, changes and corrections in the main source have been registered in the list of emendations and alternative readings. There are cases, however, first and foremost as regards staccato dots, tenuto lines and slurs, where it has not been possible to make a full registration. The collation of the main source with the manuscript parts from the first performance (Source C) shows that a large number of staccato dots in the fourth movement were added in the main source after the copying of the parts, and thus possibly after the first performance. In Variations 5-7, a number of staccato dots are added in ink, but do not appear in the manuscript parts. These staccato dots are nevertheless regarded as part of the main source and have thus been used as the basis for analogous additions, since many of them, as far as can be determined, were written by Carl Nielsen.

The considerable number of variants in the pencil draft (Sources B<sup>i</sup> and B<sup>ii</sup>) are not registered in the list of emendations and alternative readings, since they must be regarded as a result of Carl Nielsen's dynamic compositional method, where even the fair copy of a work included new compositional work. Exceptions are the textual additions in the draft related to, among other things, programmatic aspects, technical conducting matters and the correction of the title of the third movement. Variants associated with particularly striking changes, such as the addition of tempo markings and metronome speeds, are also registered. In all cases where variants in Source C are registered, these are variants in the 1925 parts.

After the break in 1926 between Carl Nielsen and his publisher of many years, Wilhelm Hansen, there were sugges-betragtet som del af hovedkilden med undtagelse af dem, der er udraderet og ikke trukket op med blæk af Carl Nielsen, og dem, der med stor sandsynlighed er foretaget efter komponistens død. Det skyldes, at der er mange eksempler på, at sådanne rettelser er gjort med Carl Niensens indblanding. Ligeledes er interne varianter, der enten er reproduceret i de håndskrevne stemmer fra uropførelsen eller er noteret som tilføjelser i disse stemmer af Carl Nielsen, regnet for del af hovedkilden. Endelig er andre interne varianter i Telmányis hånd, der er trukket op eller ændret af Carl Nielsen, regnet for del af hovedkilden.

Så grundigt det har ladet sig gøre, er alle Telmányis mange tilføjelser, ændringer og rettelser i hovedkilden registreret i revisions- og variantfortegnelsen. Der er dog tilfælde, først og fremmest hvad angår staccatoprikker, tenustreger og buer, hvor det ikke har været muligt at gennemføre en fuldstændig registrering. Kollationeringen mellem hovedkilden og de håndskrevne stemmer fra uropførelsen (kilde C) viser, at en stor mængde staccatoprikker i 4. sats er tilføjet i hovedkilden efter stemmeafskrivningen og således muligvis efter uropførelsen. I variation 5-7 er med blæk tilføjet en del staccatoprikker, som ikke figurerer i de håndskrevne stemmer. Disse staccatoprikker er ikke desto mindre betragtet som del af hovedkilden og følgelig også anvendt som grundlag for analogitilføjelser, eftersom en stor del af dem, så vidt det har kunnet afgøres, er skrevet af Carl Nielsen.

Det betydelige antal varianter i blyantskladden (kilde B<sup>i</sup> og B<sup>ii</sup>) er ikke registreret i revisions- og variantfortegnelsen, da de er at betragte som resultat af Carl Niensens dynamiske kompositionsmetode, hvor også renskriften af et værk indeholder nyt kompositionsarbejde. Undtaget er dog teksttilføjelserne i kladden angående blandt andet programmatisk aspekter, dirigenttekniske forhold samt rettelser af tredje sats' titel. Også varianter, der knytter sig til særligt markante ændringer som tilføjelsen af tempobetegnelse og metronomtal, er registreret. Hvor varianter i kilde C er registreret, drejer det sig i alle tilfælde kun om varianter i 1925-stemmerne.

Efter bruddet i 1926 mellem Carl Nielsen og hans forlag gennem mange år, Wilhelm Hansen, var det på tale, at 6.

tions that the Sixth Symphony should be published by Borups Musikforlag.<sup>51</sup> However, the symphony was not printed during Carl Nielsen's lifetime. A printed orchestral score (Source F) only appeared in 1938 from the then newly founded publishing house of the Danish Composers' Association, Edition Dania, with which Samfundet til Udgivelse af Dansk Musik (the Society for the Publication of Danish Music) established close cooperation. The score, which was a critical editorial proof-reading by Emil Telmányi, was included, after a year's delay, among the music dispatched to the members for 1937.<sup>52</sup> Printed parts for the work did not appear until 1958, after a discussion of the need for a reprint of the score by the Society for the Publication of Danish Music had resulted in the decision to publish a new score edited by Richard Dahl Eriksen, with accompanying parts (Sources G and H).<sup>53</sup>

There is no documentation that Carl Nielsen knew of Emil Telmányi's radical revision of the trombone glissandi in the second movement, as executed in the ink fair copy and reproduced in the musical material printed hitherto. Since Carl Nielsen's original glissandi can be played, they have been restored in the Carl Nielsen Edition. Some glissandi were crossed out in the ink manuscript and in the original set of parts corresponding to Telmányi's pencilled comment in the copied score that some of the glissandi appeared to have been regretted later by the composer. Since it has not been possible

[He then lists six songs from the collection Ti danske Smaasange, which were published by Borups Musikforlag in 1926]".

52 The publication year 1938 is documented by the Society for the Publication of Danish Music's Forhandlingsprotokol 1/10-1933 - 21/8 1952 (Musikhistorisk Museum og Carl Claudius' Samling, SUDM Arkivet 112/2) and a letter of 2.3.1938 from the Society for the Publication of Danish Music to Emil Telmányi (Musikhistorisk Museum og Carl Claudius' Samling, SUDM Arkivet A48/8). The orchestral score was published in the Society's Third Series as No. 60.

53 Cf. The Society for the Publication of Danish Music's minutes for the period 1953-1976 (Samfundet til Udgivelse af Dansk Musik). At a committee meeting on 9.3.1956, according to the same source, it was decided that the Danish composer Leif Kayser (b. 1919) was to work with the editor, the violist Richard Dahl Eriksen (1918-1988), and the music copyist in connection with the publication work. However Leif Kayser has told the editor of this volume that he was not involved in the work.

symfoni skulle udgives på Borups Musikforlag.<sup>51</sup> Symfonien blev imidlertid ikke trykt i Carl Niensens levetid. Et trykt orkesterpartitur (kilde F) udkom først i 1938 på Dansk Komponistforenings dengang nyoprettede forlag, Edition Dania, med hvilket Samfundet til Udgivelse af Dansk Musik etablerede et tæt samarbejde. Partituret, der undergik en kritisk reviderende korrektur ved Emil Telmányi, indgik med et års forsinkelse i medlemsleverancen for 1937.<sup>52</sup> Trykte stemmer til værket udkom først i 1958, efter at en diskussion om behovet for et genoptryk af partituret i Samfundet til Udgivelse af Dansk Musik var mundet ud i beslutningen om at udgive et nyt partitur, revideret af Richard Dahl Eriksen, med tilhørende stemmer (kilde G og H).<sup>53</sup>

Der er ikke dokumentation for, at Carl Nielsen har haft kendskab til Emil Telmányis radikale revision af basunglissandiene i 2. sats, som den er udført i blækrenskriften og gengivet i de hidtidige trykte nodematerialer. Da Carl Niensens oprindelige glissandi lader sig spille, er disse derfor restaureret i Carl Nielsen Udgaven. Nogle glissandi har været udstreget i blækmanuskriptet og i det originale stemmesæt svarende til Telmányis blyantsbemærkning i det afskrevne partitur om, at nogle af glissandiene vist nok senere blev fortrudt af komponisten. Da dette heller ikke har kunnet [Herefter er anført seks sange fra samlingen Ti danske Smaasange, der blev udgivet på Borups Musikforlag i 1926]".

52 Udgivelsesåret 1938 dokumenteres af Samfundet til Udgivelse af Dansk Musiks Forhandlingsprotokol 1/10-1933 - 21/8 1952 (Musikhistorisk Museum og Carl Claudius' Samling, SUDM Arkivet 112/2) og brev af 2.3.1938 fra Samfundet til Udgivelse af Dansk Musik til Emil Telmányi (Musikhistorisk Museum og Carl Claudius' Samling, SUDM Arkivet A48/8). Orkesterpartituret blev udgivet i Samfundet til Udgivelse af Dansk Musiks 3. serie som nummer 60.

53 Jf. Samfundet til Udgivelse af Dansk Musiks forhandlingsprotokol for perioden 1953-1976 (Samfundet til Udgivelse af Dansk Musik). Ved et forretningsudvalgsmøde 9.3.1956 blev det jf. samme kilde besluttet, at komponisten Leif Kayser (f. 1919) skulle arbejde sammen med udgiveren, bratschisten Richard Dahl Eriksen (1918-1988), og nodetegneren i forbindelse med udgivelsesarbejdet. Leif Kayser har imidlertid meddelt redaktøren af nærværende bind, at han ikke blev involveret i arbejdet.

to document this either, all glissandi have been included in the Carl Nielsen Edition. In the fourth movement some of the transitions between the variations have been notated in ways that conflict with normal notational practice, in terms of the number of rhythmic units within the bar, or in ways that are ambiguous. Insofar as it has been necessary and possible, this has been corrected, such however that in all cases it has been mentioned in the list of emendations and alternative readings.

dokumenteres, er alle glissandi medtaget i Carl Nielsen Udgaven. I fjerde sats er nogle af overgangene mellem variationerne noteret på måder, der strider mod gængs notationspraksis, hvad angår antallet af rytmiske enheder inden for takten, eller på måder, som ikke er entydige. I det omfang, det har været nødvendigt og muligt, er dette søgt udbedret, således som der i alle tilfælde er redegjort for det i revisions- og variantfortegnelsen.

Source A (ink fair copy, second movement, bb. 68-85): The whole movement was fair-copied by Emil Telmányi. The page shows examples of how Carl Nielsen approved some of Telmányi's pencil additions by going over them in ink (e.g. fg., bb. 72-73). There are also examples of Carl Nielsen's ink additions of dynamic markings (and his addition of "sempre" at the first entry of the trombone), and of Telmányi's revision of the glissandi in the trombone part, which, like his pencil changes in Carl Nielsen's dynamic markings in bb. 68 and 77, are reflected in the first printed score from 1938 (Source F), but which have not been adopted in the Carl Nielsen Edition.

In the Critical Commentary the following conventions are used:

- 1 “by analogy with” is used when something has been “added”, “emended” or “omitted” by analogy with another passage in the main source. The analogy may be vertical. When something is added “by analogy with” one or more instruments, it is understood that the analogy is with the same place in the same bar(s).
Or it may be horizontal. When something is added “by analogy with” one or more bars, it is understood that the analogy is with a parallel place in the same instrument(s).
- 2 “as in” is used when something is “added”, “emended” or “omitted” to correspond to the same place in another source.
- 3 “in accordance with” is used in cases where there is no authoritative source, only a guideline – for example printed part material.

In the bar number column, the symbol “+” is used to indicate an upbeat to the bar in question.

Datings: First movement end-dated “Damgaard / 20-11-24.”, fourth movement end-dated “Kjøbenhavn / 5 December 1925. fine”.
Donated to the Royal Library by Samfundet til Udgivelse af Dansk Musik (The Society for the Publication of Danish Music) in 1958.
37.5x27.5 cm. 58 folios with 113 pages written in ink. The written pages are numbered except pp. 4, 23 and 78, which are paginated in pencil by an unknown hand, probably the music engraver, and a folio which is pasted in between pp. 33 and 34 and written on and paginated “33a” by Emil Telmányi. The score has been bound by the Royal Library.
Paper type: 20 staves on hand-made paper with watermark (“VAN GELDER ZONEN”).
The score has been cut in connection with binding and restored.
Pp. 1-51, 64-112 (first, third and fourth movements) are in Carl Nielsen’s hand; pp. 52-63 (second movement) are in Emil Telmányi’s. The first music page has the following autograph title: “Symfoni N<sup>o</sup> 6.”. The movements fair-copied by Carl Nielsen have additions in pencil, lighter ink and indelible pencil by the composer. They also have many additions and changes in pencil by Emil Telmányi and a few by Carl Nielsen, some of which have been gone over by Carl Nielsen and/or erased, as well as changes in lighter ink, including a change of the title of the third movement from “Proposta seriosa” to “Proposta Seria”, by Telmányi and then to “Proposta seria” by Carl Nielsen. The second movement has corrections and additions in pencil by Telmányi, many of which have been erased, and additions by Carl Nielsen, who has also emphasized some of Telmányi’s pencil additions. Some of Carl Nielsen’s additions have been crossed out in pencil and changed by Telmányi. Finally, there are examples where Telmányi has made additions in the second movement. All movements exhibit engravers' remarks in pencil as well as corrections and additions in three different red crayons: one dark red, one a lighter red and one pink. The dark red one, used by Emil Telmányi to emphasize pencil corrections and additions, and the pink one, can be seen to have given rise to changes in the printed score after it was fair-copied, while the additions in the lighter red must have been made before the drawing of the printed score, since they are reproduced in it. There are also a few crossings-out in the trombone part in the second movement and some additions in the fourth movement in blue crayon.

DK-Kk, CNS 67b.
Draft of the first movement end-dated "Damgaard / 20-11-24".
Acquired by the Royal Library from Emil Telmányi in 1965.
34x27/35.5x26.7/34.2x25.8 cm, 11 bifolios and 10 folios written in pencil.

First movement:
7 bifolios and 8 folios, 42 written pages. The first and last page, respectively with notes on suggested changes and a transcript of bb. 253-256 including the addition of a new b. 254 by Emil Telmányi, are unnumbered; the other pages, with a draft of the first movement, are numbered 1-40:

Bifolio 2:	B. & H. Nr. 1. A. / 6. 13.	(12 staves)
Folio 1:		(22 staves)

Third movement:
2 bifolios and 1 folio, 10 written pages. The first 9 pages, with a draft of the third movement, are numbered 1-3, 3-5 (pagination error), renumbered in ink 1-9 (Emil Telmányi); the last page, with a note by Emil Telmányi, is unnumbered.

Folio 1:		(14 hand-ruled(?) staves)
Bifolios 1-2:		(14 hand-ruled(?) staves)

The score has been restored.
Besides the score draft for the whole first, second and third movement, the manuscript includes a few sketches. The draft part includes many additions and changes in note values, articulation, slurring, dynamics and the number of bars (first movement, bb. 185-186), as well as emphases and notes in pencil and ink by both Carl Nielsen and Emil Telmányi. Telmányi has gone over Carl Nielsen's notation, corrected note stems and added and changed rests, signatures, articulation, dynamics and notes in doubling parts. There are also textual additions outside the music staves in Carl Nielsen's hand concerning among other things the programmatic meaning of the trombone part in the second movement and conducting technique in connection with the end of the third movement (there are detailed accounts of this in the list of emendations and alternative readings). In general the variants do not exhibit important divergences from the main source; the great majority are concerned with information added or adjusted in the fair copy, mainly related to dynamics, articulation, slurring and note values. The first movement is notated on some of the pages with a key signature (one sharp). Some of these key signatures have been crossed out in ink. On p. 1 skrives / (uden Fortegn) ["to be written / without signature"] is written in ink (Emil Telmányi).

The score has been restored.

The draft part of the manuscript comprises bb. +13-379 of the fourth movement with the exception of bb. 324 and 366. On p. 4 between variations 4 and 5 some bars are notated with the remark "Slutning af finale" ["end of finale"]. On pp. 6-7, bb. 161-162 are notated twice in succession (page turn). The fanfare passage is designated "Var: X", changed in ink in connection with the production of Source A. The sketches include material for the second movement. All the folios and gatherings in the sketch part are inscribed with "VI. Sinfoni" (Emil Telmányi(?)). The ink transcript of Udrundne er de gamle Dage in a four-part piano setting with three strophes of the text is in an unknown hand.

Each part except tamb.picc., trgl.-ptti.-xyl.-gr.cas. and camp.-xyl.-trgl. is notated on one or more gatherings in ink and paginated, also in ink. Tamb.picc., trgl.-ptti.-xyl.-gr.cas. and camp.-xyl.-trgl. are notated in black ballpoint (Richard Dahl Eriksen), respectively on one bifolio, one gathering consisting of two bifolios with one inserted folio and one bifolio, as well as one folio.

Paper type: Three different types of music paper with 12 staves and one type with 10 staves. Types with 12 staves: 34.5x26.5 cm (vl. 1 (Nos. 2-4, 6 and No. 5 (fourth movement)), vl. 2, va., vc., cb., ob., cl., fg., cor., tr., trb., timp.-gr.cas.); 34.2x26 cm (tb.); 34.3x27 cm, "W H Nr. 3. (vl.1 (No. 5 (first to third movement))).

With the exception of the percussion parts written in ballpoint and an inserted bifolio in the timp. part with bb. 1-193 of the first movement notated in ink as well as cues for the remainder of the part notated in pencil, the parts have the appearance of having been much used. Most of them are stuck together at the spine and reinforced at the edges and corners with various types of adhesive tape. In all parts except vl. 1 (Nos. 5-6) and the three percussion parts written in ballpoint, the first to third movements are notated consistently in one hand, the fourth movement consistently in a second. In vl. 1 (No. 5) the fourth movement is notated in the same hand as the fourth movement in the other parts with the exception of the percussion parts written in ballpoint, while the first to third movements are notated in a third hand. In vl. 1 (No. 6) all four movements are notated in the hand that has notated the fourth movement in all parts (with the exception of the percussion parts written in ballpoint). All parts with the exception of tb. and the percussion parts written in ballpoint are furnished with a title page indicating the part, any desk number, the title of the work “Symfoni (Nr. 6)” and the name of the composer. Tb. has the corresponding information specified at the top of the first music page. On the title pages of vl. 1 (Nos. 3 and 6) and cb. (No. 2) the subtitle Sinfonia semplice has been added in pencil in an unknown hand. On the title page of cb. (No. 2) “Disse Noder / skal kasseres / 9/12 54 / L.Bruun[?]” [“This music to be scrapped ...”] is noted in blue crayon. On the title page and the first music page of trb.t. 1 “tilegnet det kgl. kapel” [“dedicated to the Royal Orchestra”] has been added in pencil in an unknown hand. The first music page of the first of the three percussion parts written in ballpoint, tamb.picc., is inscribed: “Til Hr nodetegner / Frederiksen” [“to the music draughtsman Mr. Frederiksen”], and on the title page of timp.-gran.cas. “og Tambour grand.” has been crossed out and “gennemførte Stiknoder til Gran Cassa / skrives i Timpani-stemmen” [“completed cues for Gran Casse / to be written in the timpani part”] has been added, both in blue crayon (Richard Dahl Eriksen?). The percussion parts written in ballpoint include pencilled comments to the music draughtsman by Richard Dahl Eriksen as well as the music draughtsman Stephan Frederiksen’s notes on staff distribution in pencil. Similarly the wind parts as well as vl. 2 (No. 1), vc. (No. 1) and cb. (No. 1) include pencilled additions in Richard Dahl Eriksen’s hand about the cues as well as pencilled notes from the music draughtsman. Some of the desk numbers written in ink for the string parts have been changed in pencil, and many have been emphasized, underlined and/or noted on the side in red crayon. With the exception of the string parts and the percussion parts written in ballpoint the parts are numbered in the score order with the numbers “4” to “20” in the top left-hand corner of the title page in blue crayon. In the following parts there are inserted folios and/or bifolios of a different music paper, written in different hands than those mentioned above: vl. 1 (No. 5): 1 folio with an alternative version of the third movement, bb. 12-28, notated on music paper with 12 staves; vl. 1 (Nos. 3, 6): 1 folio with an alternative version of the third movement, bb. 12-28, notated on music paper with 12 staves of the brand “‘Sünova’ Nr.4 – 12zeilig”; cb. (No. 2): a trimmed piece of music paper with two staves (5x24.5 cm) written in blue ballpoint stuck in with adhesive tape on p. 5; cb. (No.

3): 1 trimmed music folio (31x25.5 cm) with an alternative version of the first movement, bb. 171-186, notated in blue ink and ballpoint on music paper with 9 staves; trb.t. 1: 1 folio with “Stiknoder i Trb I-II-III + Tuba” [“cues in ...”] notated over two pages (Richard Dahl Eriksen) on music paper with 12 staves of the brand “W H Nr. 3. F. 12”; timp.-gr.cas.: 1 bifolio with the timp. part for the first movement, bb. 1-193, notated in ink or felt pen (?) (Richard Dahl Eriksen) and the instruction “herfra se i partituret samt efterfølgende stiknoder her” [“from here look in the score and subsequent cues here”] and cues for timp. from and including first movement b. 208 to and including the fourth movement notated in pencil (Richard Dahl Eriksen) on music paper with 12 staves of the brand “W H Nr. 3. F. 12”. With the exception of the percussion parts written in ballpoint and the bifolio inserted in the timp. part the parts include many additions and changes in the form of musicians’ and conductors’ notes, including a large number of systematic additions of among other things bowing and dynamics, notated in pencil and various crayons, as well as additions and changes in dynamics in Carl Nielsen’s and Emil Telmányi’s hands, both in both ink and pencil. In addition there is information about performances and playing times from the first performance until 1957.

Donated to the Royal Library by Samfundet til Udgivelse af Dansk Musik (The Society for the Publication of Danish Music) in 1958.

35x26.3 cm, 113 pages written in black and red ink consisting of one title page and 112 music pages numbered as in A (1-33, 33a, 34-50, 52-112) and bound in black half-binding with black cloth back. The front cover of the binding has a piece of white paper pasted on (6.2x12 cm) with the inscription “Carl Nielsen / Symfoni N<sup>o</sup> 6 / Score”. The first flyleaf has a piece of white, lined paper pasted on (16.5x13.3 cm) with information on the identity of the work and the orchestral ensemble with the required number of musicians noted in ink.

Paper type: 20 staves.

Pp. 76-77 of the score are repaired with adhesive tape.

The score, which is transcribed from A, includes indications of the times and places when the composer finished the first and fourth movements, corresponding to the datings in A. Noted on the title page in light violet crayon is "32 Min". At the bottom of the same page, noted in pencil, is "Dem Buchbinder: Es darf nichts von dem Papir / abgeschnitten werden (siehe Seiten 59-60 zB.)" (Emil Telmányi). Noted at the bottom of p. 52, also in pencil, is "In der Posaunenstimme – sind die Glissandi nicht so ausführbar wie sie stehen, / sie müssen illudiert werden, als sie stehen. Die Stellen / mit Bleistift sind wie ich glaube vom Komponisten später weggelassen worden: bitte ausprobieren – " (Emil Telmányi). The title on the first page of music is given as "Symfoni No. 6". The score includes many conductors' notes, by among others the German conductor Fritz Busch (red crayon) and additions by Emil Telmányi (ink, pencil). In the second movement notes have been added in the trb.t. part in blue crayon gone over in pencil, corresponding to the glissandi that have been crossed out in blue crayon in A. There are also substantial revisions of notes and dynamic markings as well as additions of bowing in pencil, red crayon and red ink (Fritz Busch).

E 9 string parts, manuscript copy.

Donated to the Royal Library by antiquarian music dealer Dan Fog, Copenhagen in 1966.

34.8x26/34.2x27.2 cm, 9 parts: 2 vl. 1 (Nos. 7-8), 2 vl. 2 (No. 6, added No. 6 and No. 7), 2 va. (added No. 1, No. 5), 2 vc. (added No. II, No. 4), 1 cb. (No. 4). Each part is notated in ink or felt pen (?) on a gathering consisting of 3-6 bifolios, in some cases with one further folio, and paginated, also in ink or felt pen (?). The parts with added desk numbers (see below) are laced together.

Paper type: Two different types of music paper with 12 staves: 34.8x26 cm (vl. 1, vl. 2 (No. 6), va. (No. 5), vc. (No. 4), cb.); 34.2x27.2, "W. H. Nr. 3. F. 12" (vl. 2 (added No. 6 and No. 7), va. (added No. 1), vc. (added No. II)).

The parts are transcripts in two different hands. The parts with original desk numbers are written in the same hand as Source D and have the following end-datings in the copyist's hand: "7./Oktober 1935" (vl. 1 (No. 8)), "25./9.1935"

(vl. 1 (No. 7)), "28.9.1935" (vl. 2 (No. 6)), "4./Oktober 1935."

(va. (No. 5)), "5.Oktober 1935." (vc. (No. 4)), "6./10. 1935."

(cb.). The parts with added desk numbers were written out by Richard Dahl Eriksen. The parts have many, primarily systematic notes on bowing, fingering, dynamics, slurs etc.

in pencil and in various kinds of crayon corresponding to those in Source C. The parts also include a number of musicians' notes on performances and playing times.

Inserted in vl. 2 (added No. 7) is a trimmed music sheet

(17.3x26) with an alternative beginning to vl. 2, third movement, bb. 1-11, notated in blue ink (Fritz Busch).

Inserted in va. (added No. 1) is a trimmed music sheet

(12.2x17.4) with an alternative passage in va., first movement, figures 14-14a, corresponding to vc. 1 notated in pencil, as well as a trimmed music sheet (17.3x25.4) with an alternative beginning of va., third movement, bb. 1-13 (Fritz Busch). Besides the nine whole parts the set has three loose folios, all with an alternative version of vl. 1, third movement, bb. 1-17, in one case with additions in red ink corresponding to Source D. Two of these folios are in the same hand as the parts with desk numbers and Source D.

The folios have notes on bowing etc. in pencil and blue and red crayon. The two folios which are in the same hand as the parts with desk numbers and Source D have been inscribed in pencil "(Spilles ikke!)" ["not to be played!"].

F Printed score, revised by Emil Telmányi.

Title page: "SAMFUNDET TIL UDGIVELSE AF / DANSK MUSIK / 3. SERIE NR. 60 / 1937 / SYMPHONIE NR. 6 / FOR ORKESTER / AF / CARL NIELSEN / PARTITUR / EDITION DANIA KØBENHAVN – DANMARK".

Pl. No.: E. D. 29 (1938).

29x22.5 cm, 87 pp.

The score is autographed. The end-datings of the first and fourth movement from Source A are reproduced in facsimile after the respective movements (pp. 43 and 87).

After the last movement "revised by Emil Telmanyi." has been added (p. 87).

G Printed score, revised by Richard Dahl Eriksen.

Title page: "CARL NIELSEN / SYMFONI NR. 6 / 'SINFONIA SEMPLICE' / SAMFUNDET / TIL UDGIVELSE AF DANSK MUSIK / 3. SERIE NR. 133 / 1957".

32.5x25/22x15 cm, 162 pp. The score has the following preface in Danish, English and German:

“SINFONIA SEMPLICE was composed in 1925, and the Royal Orchestra (Copenhagen) gave the first performance thereof on December 11th, 1925, under the composer’s baton. As basis for the present revised edition have served the composer’s two manuscript scores, his final fair-copy and the preceding pencilled copy which has kindly been placed at the editor’s disposal by his daughter, Mrs. Irmelin Eggert Møller, and by Mr. Emil Telmányi. Through a minute comparison of these scores it has been attempted to make the present version mirror the composer’s intensions as truely as possible.

For practical reasons the original two flutes have been revised and supplemented by a separate piccolo-flute. Some misinterpretations and obvious errors have been corrected. Duration: 32 minutes.

Rich. Dahl Eriksen”.

H Printed set of parts.

Title page on grey board cover: “CARL NIELSEN / SYMFONI NR. 6 / ‘SINFONIA SEMPLICE’ / SAMFUNDET / TIL UDGIVELSE AF DANSK MUSIK / 3. SERIE NR. 133 / 1957”.

33x25.4 cm, 28 parts, sewn.

Besides C there are nine supplementary string parts – some written in ink, some written in felt pen (?). The parts in ink written in the same hand as D. These string parts (E) consist of copies of the string parts in C. The parts written in ink in C and the string parts E were used together as rental material by the Society for the Publication of Danish Music up to and including 1957, as is evident from the notes in the two sources, on among other things performances. Three of the string parts, the wind parts, the percussion parts written in ballpoint and the inserted bifolio in the timp. part in C, along with Source x, formed the basis for the hand-drawn originals for the printed set of parts (H).

FILIATION AND EVALUATION OF SOURCES

Carl Nielsen’s sketches and the pencil draft for the score (B¹, B²), where the draft has substantial additions by Emil Telmányi, formed the basis for the ink fair copy of the score (A), which was made by Carl Nielsen and Emil Telmányi. A was the basis for the orchestral parts in ink which were used for the first performance, and which make up the bulk of C. In addition A was the basis for a careful copy of the score (D), probably made in the 1930s before the first printed score, and, in 1937-1938, for the first printed score (F). According to the preface to the second printed score (G) published in 1958, A along with B¹ and B² also formed part of the basis for this score, although hardly directly; at this point a printing source (x) is presumably missing.<sup>1</sup>

<sup>1</sup> A has no examples of Richard Dahl Eriksen’s hand. The music draughtsman who drew G, Stephan Frederiksen, thus probably worked from another source, possibly an adapted copy of F. It may be the copy “adapted” by Richard Dahl Eriksen that is mentioned in a letter from the Society for the Publication of Danish Music to Richard Dahl Eriksen dated 26.1.1956 (Musikhistorisk Museum og Carl Claudius’ Samling, SUDM Arkivet A412/2).
