About the artist

He is an amateur (historian of art for job). When he was young, he studied the piano for more than ten years with Lady Adalgisa Mantovani, graduate at the Conservatory of Turin in the early decades of XX century. After a period of inactivity, he started playing again for his wife Anabell (from what the pseudo "An&An), adapting several pieces at an easier level of execution and listening.

About the piece

Title: Kemp's Jig [Version for Piano solo after the original for Lute]

Composer: Anonymous

Arranger: Zencovich, Antonio

Copyright: Copyright © Antonio Zencovich

Publisher: Zencovich, Antonio

Instrumentation: Piano solo

Style: Renaissance

Comment: This piece of anonymous author is related to the name of William Kemp or Kempe (dead in 1603), who was an actor of the early Shakespeare's dramas. At its time the musical form of the jig was mostly in a binary time, before assuming its characteristic ternary course in the following century.
