Fughetta: "Wir glauben all an einen Gott" for Pipe Organ (BWV 681) Bach, Johann Sebastian

About the artist

I'm a software engineer. Basically, I'm computer geek who loves to solve problems. I have been developing software for the last 25+ years but have recently rekindled my love of music.

Many of my scores are posted with individual parts and matching play-along however, this is not always practical. If you would like individual parts to any of my scores or other specific tailoring, please contact me directly and I will try to accommodate your specific needs.

Baroque

The Clavier-Übung III, sometimes referred to as the Mass, is a collection of compositions for organ by J.S. Bach, started in 1735–36 and published in 1739. It is the most significant and extensive work for organ, containing musically most complex and technically most demanding pieces for that instrument. In its use of modal forms, motets, and chorales, it looks back to the religious music of the 16th century. (more online)
