The first system of music consists of two staves. The treble staff begins with a series of chords, followed by a triplet of eighth notes. The bass staff contains a steady eighth-note accompaniment.

The second system continues the piece, featuring a repeat sign in the middle. The treble staff has a fermata over a chord, and the bass staff continues with its eighth-note pattern.

The third system shows a triplet in the treble staff and a fermata in the bass staff. The treble staff also features a slur over a group of notes.

The fourth system is characterized by a long fermata in the treble staff, which spans across several measures. The bass staff continues with its accompaniment.

The fifth system contains triplets in both the treble and bass staves. The treble staff has a triplet of eighth notes, and the bass staff has a triplet of eighth notes.

The sixth system concludes the piece with a 'rall.' (rallentando) marking. It features a final chord in the treble staff and a final eighth-note in the bass staff.
