

Sigh No More, Ladies

A New Melody for the Song from Shakespeare's "Much Ado About Nothing"

♩. = 52 With a skipping beat, as | ♩ ♩ | ♩ ♩ |

D Sheldon

verse 1

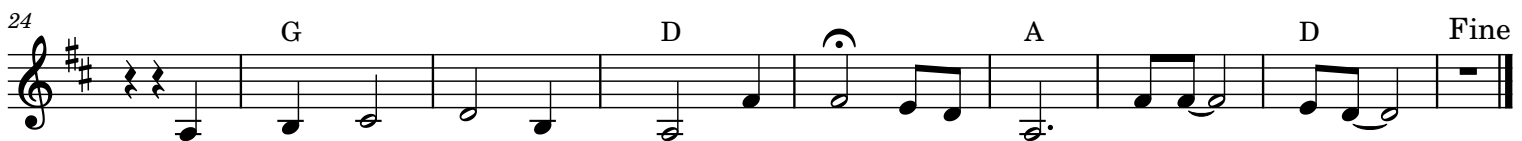

Sigh no more, lad-ies, sigh no more, Men were de - ceiv - ers ev - er, —

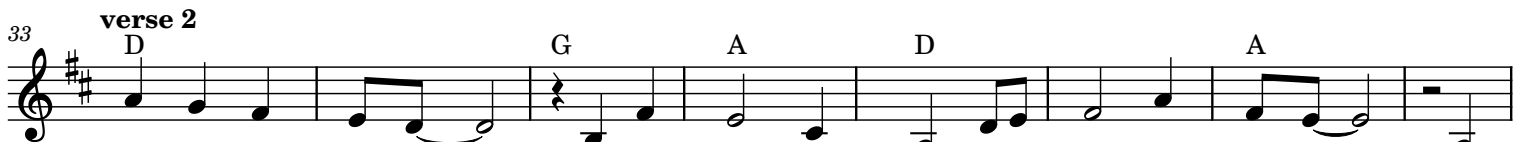

One foot in — sea and one on shore, To one thing const - ant nev - er; —

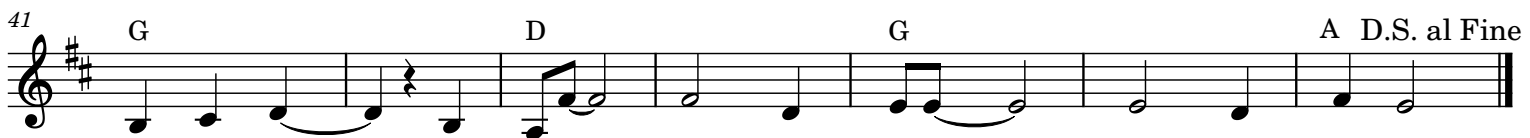

Then sigh not so, but let them go, And be you blithe and bon - ny, —

Con - vert - ing all your sounds of woe In - to Hey, non - ny - non - ny. —

Sing no more dit - ties, — sing no more, Of dumps so — dull and hea - vy, — The fraud of men — was ev - er — so Since sum - mer — first was leaf - y; —