

This block contains two blank musical staves. Each staff is a five-line system. The top staff of each system begins with a treble clef and a common time signature (C). A large brace on the left side of the page groups these two staves together. The staves are otherwise empty, with no notes or markings.

This block contains two more blank musical staves, identical in format to the first block. Each staff is a five-line system with a treble clef and a common time signature (C) at the beginning. A large brace on the left side of the page groups these two staves together. The staves are empty.